Joseph Mulderig

Joseph specialises in all aspects of personal injury litigation including injuries of the utmost severity, fatal accidents, pain cases, industrial disease, clinical negligence and cases involving allegations of fraud and exaggeration. He is instructed, in broadly equal terms, by both claimants and defendants. He has a reputation for hard work and forensic attention to detail. He is regularly instructed in high value and complex cases and is experienced in settling schedules of loss and counter schedules in claims valued well into six figures and in excess of £1 million. Joseph is frequently instructed to attend joint settlement meetings.

"Joseph is an outstanding barrister in his chosen field. An excellent advocate, he is hardworking, meticulous and tactically very astute. He also has an ability to empathise with the challenges facing those he represents, many of whom have life changing injuries. His knowledge of the human anatomy and associated injuries is first class and he also demonstrates an ability to explain matters to clients in a professional, but down-to-earth, way that helps put them at ease, often at very traumatic times."
